A clothing swap is a clothing exchange where people share their once loved, and gently used clothing with others who share theirs. One of the most obvious benefits of swapping your clothes is the benefit to the environment. Clothing swaps promote slow fashion vs. fast fashion and are an environmentally friendly reuse strategy that helps reduce our environmental footprint while supporting a circular economy.

National Public Health Week is finally here!

NPHW is April 1-7, 2024. We are so excited to celebrate with you!

During the first full week of April each year, the American Public Health Association (APHA) brings together communities across the United States to observe National Public Health Week as a time to recognize the contributions of public health and highlight issues that are important to improving our nation's health. This year's theme is "Protecting, Connecting and Thriving: We Are All Public Health."

The Meaningful Experiences specialty care program is a unique and innovative program provided with our residents in Memory Care. Each resident is assessed for their specific processing (or cognitive) abilities and gifts. We interpret the information to tailor and deliver wellness programming in a way that makes sense to each individual.

By focusing on a person's residual strengths, we can individualize our approach to allow each person to participate fully for them.
